Junior Reception

Last Friday evening the Annual Junior Reception to the Seniors of Campbell Union High School was held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Page on the Los Gatos and Santa Clara Road.

The guests began to assemble soon after eight o'clock and were met at the open door by the reception committee composed of the Misses Merna Sawyer, Belle Burdick, and Ethel Curry, and Messrs. Howard Bean and Lloyd Gardner.

After some time had been pleasantly spent in renewing old friendships among the alumni and friends, musical numbers were rendered.

The orchestra gave two selections, "What the Brass Band Played;" and "Weeping Willow." A trombone solo, "Just a Picture of You" was well given by Mr. Mervyn Keesling. A vocal solo and encore, "Seranade" (La Seranata) and "I Love You Truly," by Mrs. Wilson were much appreciated by all. Mrs. Avenel Brandenburg Ross gave two most pleasing piano solos, "Valse Caprice," and "Sextett from Lucia," in her usually brilliant manner. The closing numbers were violin solos by Prof. Milton L. Lawrence, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lucy Lawrence. The first, Schubert's "Seranade," was followed by Schubert's "March Militaire." These, as well as all other numbers, were thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated, and much credit is due to the committee in charge, for preparing such an excellent program.

The decorations consisted of white marguerites and ferns, and were tastefully placed in the four spacious rooms thrown open for this enjoyable occasion.

After the musical program, delicious punch and wafers were served from a booth on the large porch. The committee in charge, Misses Helen Hoag and Lois Pendleton, were kept busy serving the refreshments to the guests, who numbered about 80.

About eleven o'clock the guests began to depart, all expressing an appreciation of the delightful evening prepared for them, and promising to meet old schoolmates at a similar function next year.

Putnams have received the largest line of Gents' Collars ever brought to Campbell.

Political Equality Club

As I was saying lovely Woman may possibly need to grow some more. And in order to grow she should have the privilege of choice in a larger measure. She should represent herself.

Let us hope, Mr. Man, that your wife is a GOOD woman. But not too good to take an interest in the larger life of the universe. If she is too good to interest herself in mundane affairs she should be translated at once. For such goodness is peculiarly liable to become contaminated by contact with the outside world. Why she might even catch some sort of immoral microbe while making out a money-order in the postoffice! Or on a crowded street-car. Or at a bargain-counter. Such goodness is almost more hopeless than real wickedness. It can't even be reformed.

But if she is an open-air woman of the work-a-day order she can take care of herself.

Don't say, Mr. Man, that you want to keep women pure by keeping them out of the "dirty mess" yclept politics. Perhaps it would not have been a dirty mess had women taken a share in the political housekeeping. And people are not made pure by restrictions. It is always a matter of personal choice.

When the Suffrage Amendment bill was discussed by the legislature of two years ago one of the legislators, a beardless young fellow, declared that he opposed the amendment because he "wanted to keep women pure." Mr. Johnson, the proponent of the bill, made the youthful solon confess that he was unmarried. I hope that he has since wedded some fine young woman who wants to vote. I want to suggest a horrible thought to you, Mr. Man. Suppose that your wife should be a widow some fine day! Wouldn't you feel pretty mean to think that you had not done everything in your power to render her self-protecting? Wouldn't you hate to see her become a prey to the horde of unscrupulous sharks that swarm the economic waters? Oh, Mr. Man! I want you to see a few inches beyond your blessed nose! I want you to realize how much so-called politics enter into the affairs of our everyday life.

While I am harrowing up your feelings I want to say something else. Man loses incalculably by having a sort of inferior creation for his "other half." He invites disaster by assuming lordship over his mate. For she will "play the wiley old Jew with him," every time. Many a woman can justly boast that she can "wind her husband around her little finger." And many a man is in reality, serving as second-lieutenant under an able general when he has been fondly dreaming that he was "master in his own house." You don't need to believe this unless you want to.

Fire Department Gets Exercise

Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock, an alarm was sent into Campbell for the Chemical Engine. A squad of men manned the ropes and wheels and the tank went bouncing and swaying down the street and across the railroad tracks when the men discovered that the axles needed a liberal supply of grease. However, just at this time Mr. Curry came to the rescue with his auto, and the old cart showed a surprising spurt of speed as it was being towed along by the auto. The fire laddies clambered into the auto and made record time to the corner of Los Gatos Road and Campbell Avenue, where there was a chimney fire at the home of Mr. H. Griffin. No damage was done, and the fire had burned itself out by the time the engine and escorts arrived.

A Great Meeting

The meeting this past week in San Francisco of the National Home Missionary Society of The Congregational Church of America, was a great meeting in many ways. This was the first time the National society had held their annual meeting West of the Mississippi. This Society was the Mother Society of all similar societies in the United States. It was organized in 1826, 75 years ago as "The American Home Missionary Society", and was inter-denominational in organization and work. Then as the various churches came to realize the tremendous importance of the work, each church in time formed their own society, and the great Mother Society of them all took up the particular work of the great church which first organized the work, and is now known over the country as the Congregational Home Missionary Society.

It was of great interest also because of the presence of the early California pioneers, in whose honor a luncheon was served. Dr. Willey, who came here in '49, who was Chaplain at the raising of the flag in Monterey, and was one of the founders of the great University of California at Berkeley, at that time a Congregational school. Father Rowel who came in '55, and who was for years the head head of the Seaman'a work in San Francisco, and under whose labors 5,709 sailors were converted; and Dr. W. C. Pond, who also came in the early fifties, and whose life has been built into the early history of California and Dr. Walter Frear, for years Pacific Coast Secretary of the A. B. C. F. M., whose son is Governor of Hawaii.

It was a great meeting also in its future vision. The great Congregational Church has recently—within the past 5 years—inaugurated two new lines of work, and called two strong men as its Secretaries. The Department of Labor and Special Service, Sec. H. A. Atkinson; and the department of The City Problem, Secretary H. A. Swartz. These two lines of practical work promise much for the future success.

The Campbell Church was represented by delegate throughout the entire sessions to whom was given the privilege of the floor in debate and discussion at all times.

Graduation Exercises

A class of nineteen pupils was graduated from the grammar school last night. A splendid program was given before a large audience in the high school hall. Coming so late in the week we find it impossible to publish anything in particular about the event, but we expect to devote much of our space next week in reproducing some of the excellent papers, etc., which were read last evening.

Donation Appreciated

All public benefactors are entitled to recognition and a mead of thanks from the public thus benefitted. Any man or woman who helps to beautify the town is a public benefactor, and for this reason I take it upon myself to give recognition and thanks to H. G. Keesling, Master of Orchard City Grange who so generously donated to the Campbell Union High school all of the petunia plants that we would receive, set out and care for. These plants, two hundred in number, have been set out and are doing fine, many of them already in bloom; these together with the new flag and flag pole will add much to the neatness and beauty of the front yard of the school.

This pole, flag, and practically all of the flowers and shrubbery on these grounds have been put there at a very small cost to the District as all of them were contributed by individuals or Societies. We hope the trustees will see fit and proper to make these grounds the pride of our town by expending a few dollars to further what has already been started so successfully.

Oakland.—His head completely blown from his body by the discharge of a shotgun which he was cleaning, Greene Hollingsworth, a retired miner, met a horrible death. His family and the coroner believe Hollingsworth was careless in handling the gun and pulled the trigger accidentally.

Santa Cruz.—The children of this city and those who visit here this summer are to be taken care of by the City Council in the matter of playgrounds at the beach. A committee has been appointed to expend $500 in swings and "teeter" boards to be erected at the west end of the big city awning, which is put up every year on the beach near the casino.

Oroville.—Announcement was received in Oroville that Carnegie had granted $10,000 for the construction of a new library in Oroville. The city has outgrown its present library facilities.

There was a deep gash in her throat and she almost bled to death before a physician arrived from Colusa.

Cordelia.—Michael Bineen, foreman of a Southern Pacific section gang, was accidentally electrocuted near this town. In order to measure the neight of a power line from the ground he tied a railroad spike to a fine wire and threw it over the highly charged power wire, forming a circuit over which 3000 volts of electricity passed through his body. Death was instantaneous.

Modesto.—G. J. Wren, candidate for Mayor on what is known as the business men's ticket, was elected by a safe majority. Wren received more votes than his two opponents, G. D. Bice, Socialist, and John Harrison, Independent, combined. He carried into office with him his entire ticket of Councilmen and School Commissioners by equally large majorities.

BIG DEPOSITS OF RICH NITER FOUND IN NEVADA

Said to be Largest in North America and Next in Size to Chile.

Sacramento.—News has been received here through Western Pacific sources that a large body of niter or saltpeter has been found in Nevada, 18 miles out from Gerlach, and that the Government and large powder manufacturers have sent experts there to make examinations. The deposits have been found to be the largest in North Amercia and next in greatness to those in Chile.

News of the discovery was kept secret until the Government expert could go to the scene and make examinations to determine the importance of the find. This expert has completed his examination, and reported that the deposits are almost pure niter. This expert was sent out by the United States Geological Survey. An expert from one of the largest powder manufactories in the country made a similar report.

The development of these deposits will give great importance to Gerlach as a shipping point, and will result in the building of a town in that vicinity. Gerlach is in Washoe county, Nevada, not far from the California line.

June 16 and 17; Days Set Apart for Sports and Grand Celebration.

Oroville.—All the electrical illuminations for the Oroville water carnival, which is to be held on June 16th and 17th, have been installed. For over a mile up and down the Feather river myriads of vari-colored electric lights have been strung. Other lights have been submerged in the water, while still others have been massed together in fantastic figures and designs. The great bridge across Feather river will be outlined with electric lights.

Log Train Jumps into Canyon.

Oroville.—An entire train of the Butte and Plumas railroad, which runs east into the Sierras from Oroville, plunged over a bridge more than 40 feet down a canyon. The engineer and fireman and other members of the crew saw that the disaster was inevitable and jumped in time to save themselves. The train consisted of an engine and four cars loaded with logs. It is believed that the accident was caused by spreading rails.

Earthquake Shakes Capital as Madero Cortege Enters

Mexico City.—The thousands of people who had flocked here to take part in the monster demonstration of welcome to Francisco I. Madero were thrown into a panic during the early morning hours, on the day of entry of the revolutionary leader, by a severe earthquake which rocked the city.

Sixty-six killed, 75 wounded and property loss $100,000, are the net results of the disaster.

Many people took the quake as an evidence of the displeasure of God at the driving out of Diaz and the incoming of Madero, but this failed materially to interfere with the reception.

The street cars were all tied up because of riots in many sections of the city.

Five persons were killed and many injured by the collapse of a church at Huilpilco, another suburb, where the victims were attending early mass.

The water mains of the city were practically uninjured and the light and power company suffered little inconvenience in operation. Some light damage was done to the street car tracks, but not enough to interfere with traffic except on one line.

Every hotel and lodging house in the city had been crowded with guests waiting the day's celebration. In these places confusion reigned. Guests scantily attired rushed to the streets, fearing the collapse of the buildings in which they had slept.

Shortly after the first and most severe shock, a rumor that insurrectos, displeased with Madero's leadership and plotting against him, had attacked the city and blown up the powder magazine at the barracks, was widely circulated.

The continuation of the shocks, which lasted several minutes, soon put an end to this story. The garrison at the barracks was caught under a collapsing roof. At the Belem prison, one of the heavy walls fell inward, crashing into the jury room and the main corridor of the the jail, where the prisoners were confined.

In the general wreckage of the city the triumphal arches erected for Madero still stood, while the brilliant decorations in which the national colors predominated, fluttered in tatters from the wrecked buildings.

The reception given Madero was the greatest demonstration the capital has known in a generation. Business was practically suspended and the streets through which the revolutionary leader made his triumphal way were gay with flags, bunting and flowers, while from the throats of tens of thousands came roars of acclaim.

If there was doubt in the minds of any onlookers as to the sentiment of the people in the capital toward Madero, it must have been dispelled by the cheer that announced his appearance in the entrance to the station.

Thousands packed the inclosure in front of the building. lined the fences and walls, roofs of houses, and filled windows and balconies at every point which afforded a view of the entrance. These took up the shout and it was in turn repeated by other thousands who packed the streets about and overflowed into the Plaza de la Reforma.

The coach to which Mr. and Mrs. Madero were escorted was drawn by four horses, which were managed by postilions in green jackets, white trousers, Colonial wigs and green caps. With them rode Alfredo Robles Dominguez, chief of this military zone.

Lines of kahki-clad horsemen made a line, albeit a somewhat dangerous one, with the rearing and plunging of the animals, through which the members of the party walked. Bouquets of flowers and wreaths were tossed in their paths, and into the carriages as they drove out through the cheering multitude.

Army of Educators to Meet in Convention in July

San Francisco.—San Francisco is making elaborate preparations to welcome and entertain over 50,000 educator delegates from every State in the Union, Canada, Cuba and the Hawaiian Islands in the Forty-ninth Annual Convention of the National Educational Association, which meets in this city from July 8th to 14th in the most important gathering in the history of the association. The citizens, through the San Francisco Convention League, have appropriated $25,000 for this purpose.

The Navy Department has ordered the Pacific fleet to boom a salute to the teachers on their arrival and remain anchored in San Francidco Bay during their stay. Thousands of Uncle Sam's troops, just returned from the Mexican boundary line, will engage in mimic war. The city will be in gala attire for two weeks.

Every railroad in the United States and Canada has granted the lowest rates ever offered over their lines for any occasion. The Governor of California, the Mayor of San Francisco and prominent educators all over the country will welcome the visitors at the Greek Theater at Berkeley Monday, July 10th.

A woman, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, of Chicago, president of the N. E. A., will preside at all sessions, and will be the dominant figure during convention week. The convention is of particular interest to California and other Coast and Mountain State teachers, who will act as hosts to the eastern guests. Ten thousand are expected from California alone; four thousand from Washington; thirty-five hundred from Oregon, and large delegations from a the Mountain States.

Hospital Supplies to be Made in San Quentin Prison

Sacramento.—The convicts in San Quentin prison are to manufacture supplies for the State hospitals.

This was decided upon at a joint meeting of the State Lunacy Commission, Board of Control, Governor Johnson, superintendents of the State hospitals and wardens of the State prisons, and a committee consisting of doctors and stewards met with Warden Hoyle and decided upon uniform supplies for manufacture.

Shoes, furniture, shirts and all kinds of clothing will be manufactured at San Quentin, which will tend to make the prison self-supporting. Governor Johnson brought the matter before the meeting by calling attention to the fact that the State was buying supplies manufactured by convicts in other State prisons, and said that California prisons should furnish them.

What the asylum officials would do when a deluge of inebriates entered the State hospitals as patients was a perplexing question discussed at length. inebriate persons and persons addicted to drugs can enter asylums voluntarily under the new law, and the superintendents said they did not want such persons mingling with the other patients. They declared that the asylums were crowded and there is no special accommodation for inebriates.

It is a matter which the State Lunacy Commission must decide soon.

Revolutionists Now Planning Overthrow of Madero

El Paso.—Simultaneously with the discovery of the Maderistas that the Cientificos are planning another revolution, Abram Gonzales, Governor of Chihuahua, was notified by a friend who sent him an unsigned telegram that $40,000 had been offered for his head.

The Maderistas charge that the Cientificos are going to spend money lavishly to hire revolutionists and assassins, and that Madero will be killed before the election takes place, so that Reyes or some other candidate of the Cientificos can be elected.

The Maderistas claim that the Cientificos are now flocking to New York to carry out their plans and to prepare for hiring revolutionists to down Madero.

Pineda, Limantour, Escandon and many others are en route there.

The charge is made that the Church party in Mexico is going to work against Madero's election and that it is secretly behind the revolution that the Cientificos will attempt to inaugurate.

BIG IRRIGATION JUBILEE OVER GOVERNMENT PROJECT

Waters Harnessed to Increase Productiveness of Sacramento Valley.

Orland, Glenn county and all the balance of the Sacramento valley will celebrate on June 16th and 17th the completion of the great Government project which, through irrigation, transforms all of the barley fields of that section into most fertile lands capable of growing several diversified crops each year.

The engineers of the reclamation service concluded some time since that no better field than the Sacramento valley at its north end could be found for experimental purposes and for the utilization of natural waterways for increasing the productiveness of the soil. Consequently they set about to dam the waters of Stony creek in the foothills of the Coast range, and commenced the construction of what is known as the East Park dam. This massive structure of concrete combined with the natural formations which made the checking of the great rush of melted snow and mountain rain waters possible now stands as a monument to the enterprise and daring of those Government engineers whose skill and foresight has transformed the northern end of the Sacramento valley into the most productive zone in the entire State, where oranges, lemons, olives almonds and alfalfa thrive in abundance.

The climatic conditions at Orland compare favorably with the citrus belts of southern California. In fact it is recognized by fruit men that the oranges and lemons in this particular part of the Sacramento valley ripen ahead of those in most of the other citrus sections. Now that water for irrigation is available it is conceded that Orland will fast become one of the important fruit shipping points of northern California.

The celebration at Orland, which will take place the middle of this month, is not only a State affair, but bears national significance as it is the first precedent established by the Federal Government in the irrigation of lands held under private ownership, the successful outcome of which is being closely watched by landowners throughout the State and settlers who intend to locate in California.

The Railroads, anticipating a large number of visitors to the Orland Irrigation Jubilee, have arranged to have sleepers sidetracked at Orland to accommodate the overflow of guests from the hotels. Greatly reduced excursion rates, consisting of one and one-third fares from all California points north of Bakersfield have also been allowed.

Cowboy as a Fireman.

Pendleton, Or.—R. A. Arbuckle, ex-cowboy, is the hero of the hour among the members of the Fire Department on account of his courageous action in entering a burning cleaning establishment, lassoing a 54-gallon tank of gasoline and dragging it to the open through the flames. The fire had surrounded the tank and a fire was imminent. Arbuckle made a lasso from ropes from a hose cart, and, while firemen trained streams of water on him, walked inside and with his first toss roped the tank.

Judge Some Expert Himself.

Los Angeles.—Judge Calvin Craig of the Superior Court of this county, who is himself a handwriting expert, overruled the opinions of four experts called on behalf of the "Lucky" Baldwin estate, and declared genuine the signature of the late millionaire turfman to a letter instructing H. H. Cross, a San Francisco artist, to come south and paint a series of pictures. Cross is sueing the estate for $22,350.

Victoria, B. C.—Captain A. A. It was charged that Captain Sears had not done all in his power to save the passengers and that the vessel was improperly loaded.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me.

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANETZKI, 2963 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sun Preserved Strawberries.

Boil a cup of sugar and a cup of water till it becomes a very thick syrup, then drop in a few of the berries and boil them for six minutes. Dip them out with a strainer and set on a platter under a glass in the hot sun, the hotter the better. It will take four or five days for the sun to cook them thoroughly, but by the third day they will plump up and fully ripen. When the cooking is done put them up in jell glasses and cover. Berries so cooked retain the color and flavor more perfectly than by any other method.

Before the Eight-Hour Day.

In the good old days mother made cherry preserves, peach preserves, pear preserves, quince preserves, plum butter, apple butter, peach marmalade, blackberry jam, raspberry jam, nine kinds of jelly and several varieties of sweet pickles, sour pickles and catsup. Nowadays a loving wife hurries home from the whist club and sets before her hungry husband an attractive layout consisting of baker's bread, canned salmon, a factory-made pie and some sliced bananas or dried prunes.

A Sign for the Surgeons.

"Of course," said the surgeon who had operated for appendicitis, "there will be a scar."

"That's all right," replied the patient. "Leave any kind of mark you like that will prevent some strange doctor from coming along and operating again."—The Winchester Herald.

ALASKA IS "UNCLE SAM'S" GREAT TREASURE CASKET

The Preposterous Ice Fields Which Was Thought to Be Worthless.

That Alaska is destined to be the coal producing center of America is a relative safe prediction. Neither in its gold nor in its fur seals, neither in its bountiful salmon fisheries nor in its great forests does the real wealth of the vast northern Territory chiefly lie, but in its matchless coal deposits. A writer in Norman E. Mack's National Monthly has good warrant for terming Alaska "Uncle Sam's treasure casket."

Forty years ago it was an object of satire as "Seward's Folly," because that statesman had paid Russia $7,000,000 for the preposterous ice fields. The fur seals alone have recouped the price four times over. Leaving out of account the gold of the Klondike and the enormous yield of salmon, it is profitable to inquire what Alaska is now known to mean as a national asset.

Great Britain's total wealth is estimated at $88,725,000,000, or $1930 per capita. Thrifty France, with a much smaller population, boasts $83,500,000,000, or $2075 per capita. The estimate for the United States is $125,000,000,000, or $1390 per capita. But when Alaskan coal lands are included in the calculation the figures are of a kind to stagger the imagination.

Geological experts of the United States Government believe that the coal-bearing lands will total from 48,000 to 60,000 square miles. Of this area but 1200 square miles have been surveyed, and their yield is estimated at over 15,000,000,000,000 tons. At a minimum rate of $4 a ton this means $60,000,000,000, which, multiplied forty times, in accordance with the total coal area on the smallest calculation of the geological experts, means the wholly inconceivable sum of $2,400,000,000,000 added to the total wealth of the United States from that source alone.

Every American may well feel a sense of patriotic jubilation when he contemplates what potential wealth lies ready to be tapped in "Uncle Sam's treasure casket" and available when needed.—Philadelphia Press.

Wonderful Chorus to be Heard at the Coming Sunday School Convention.

Like a mighty diapason of tremendous, over-welling melody, a thousand trained voices are to be heard in a concert that will be the most attractive feature of the Thirteenth International Sunday School Convention which is to be held in San Francisco, June 20-27th at the Coliseum. Rehearsals for this monster musical event have been in progress in all of the cities about the Bay since March 1st, all of the leading church choirs and singers collaborating to make this an epoch in convention history.

The grand chorus, which has been rehearsing under Robert Husband, has always been a feature of the International Sunday School Conventions in London and other great cities, but this is the first time that such an undertaking has been attempted in San Francisco. From this choir it is expected that a nucleus will be made for the great world's fair chorus in 1915, when choirs from all over the country are expected to compete for honors as has always been the custom with European choirs during international exposition conventions.

Mr. Husband, who is one of the well-known choir leaders of San Francisco, has been conducting these rehearsals in all of the towns and cities about the bay, organizing branch choirs made up of singers from the several churches in each community. Four general rehearsals of the entire 1,000 voices are planned, one to be held in each of the bay cities.

On Monday evening, June 19th, the final rehearsal of this grand choir will be held in this city at the First Baptist Church, corner of Market and Octavia Streets. Singers desiring to join this choir are given an opportunity to do so, as Mr. Husband has kept the rolls open to enable those not already reached, to become a part of this chorus. A charge of fifty cents admission will be made to this concert, which sum will go toward defraying a part of the convention expenses.

The music to be sung is of a high order of classical excellence, with a few compositions by modern musicians, the works including those of Handel, Mendelssohn, Gounod, Mozart, Schubert, Alford B. Gaul and Wallace I. Sabin, the latter the well-known composer. An orchestra of a hundred veteran musicians will augment the pipe organ, Mr. Sabin being orchestra leader while Mr. Husband directs the chorus.

No such aggregation of musicians has ever been brought together in San Francisco, and Mr. Husband feels highly elated at the progress which has been made, for it not only augurs well for the big entertainment feature of the International Sunday School Convention but it gives promise of what San Francisco may hope to accomplish as a musical center in 1915. When Mr. Husband first talked of organizing the choir singers last winter, no one hoped that such cordial support would be given by the professional and amateur musicians, the majority of whom are so busy with their own various ambitions as singers and musicians, that it was not expected they would be so generous in volunteering to give their time and talent.

Besides the grand choral concert, there will be fine musical programs at all of the big mass meetings during convention week. The Coliseum and the Greek Theater will be occupied on Sunday, June 25th with noted speakers, when large choirs, made up of sections of the grand choral society of the convention, will add to the attractiveness of those occasions. Mr. Husband has worked diligently at the musical features of the big convention with the result that unprecedented success has crowned his efforts.

A BURNING SUBJECT OF OLD MEXICO NOT A WAR ISSUE

The Sequel to a Promising Tale; Tragic Marring of a Too-Ardent Hope.

Following a midnight feast, in which the piece de resistance was composed of the inflammable edible "chile con carne," the consumer in his dreams visited the lower regions. There he witnessed many points of interest, but what attracted him most was the weather forecast, which read: "Wednesday, warm; Thursday, hot; Friday, hot as ——; Saturday, don't mention it!" The farther he went the worse it got.

Those who have eaten the weak imitation served in Washington as chile con carne are regaled with a super-abundance of bean, a trace of meat and a suspicion of pepper. In New Orleans there is purveyed at the old French Market and Poydras Market an innocent looking compound, in which the pepper begins to talk. But those who have crossed the Rio Grande and penetrated into Old Mexico alone are qualified to speak authoritatively on this burning subject. For they have looked upon the chile con carne when it is red and know that verily, as with its liquid partner in crime, it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder. If this be the case in its adopted home, what must be its vital-consuming potentialities in the land of its nativity—in beautiful, passionate Spain?

And here comes the sad equel to a promising tale, the tragic marring of a too ardent hope. A traveler just returned from the land of the haughty Don says there is no chile con carne there! Lovely senoritas there were, and olives and ruins, and bull fights, but nary chile. The only thing meriting the name was the general flavor of the various national dishes, which, instead of being highly seasoned, were not seasoned at all.

So it goes through life. "Man never is, but always to be, blest." The beautiful houris of the East are merely fat girls, who waddle instead of walk, and wear veils as the only sure means of eventually getting a husband. Welsh rabbit isn't rabbit, and was never made in Wales. German silver is not silver, nor is it mined in Germany. Terrapin is muskrat. Baltimore robin suggests a dish fit for Lucullus until you discover it is only a poetiac title given the small red sausage that you cautiously appropriate from the lunch counter, keeping a mindful eye on the barkeep all the while.

But to learn that there is no chile con carne in Spain constitutes the crowning blow, the last malicious trick of the Imp of the Perverse. Maybe there isn't anywhere—but no; we have eaten it, nor could a whole army of Christian Scientists disabuse our mind as to its molten reality.—Washington Post.

Hot Enough.

A Wyoming compuncher, upon one of his infrequent visits to town, went into a restaurant and ordered a steak. When it was served he looked over the assortment of bottles in the center of the table and, selecting one which was new to him, poured the contents liberally over his meat. He cut off a generous bite and the observers watched its progress to his mouth with some interest, for the bottle had contained tobasco sauce.

He tried in vain to swallow the morsel on his tongue while surprise changed to anguish in his face. Finally he jumped to his feet and, as he ejected the bite violently to the floor, he yelled:

"Blaze! durn you, blaze!"—Lippincott's.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

A Well-Spent Week-End.

How many of us there are who when the summer months arrive would like to spend our week-ends where we could be cool and comfortable, away from the dust and turmoil of the cities, and at the same time be in a place where we could escape the crowd that insistently flocks to the sea-side for a breath of fresh air! The only difficulty we meet with in carrying out our desires is the surmise that such an ideal place is impossible of attainment anywhere within a reasonable distance of the city. This, however, is erroneous, for within a few hours' ride on a comfortable train, a new California has been opened up by the Western Pacific, where the country is green all summer long, where the thermometer never rises beyond the comfort degree, and where all the delights of a summer land may be had. This is the Feather River Canyon and the region contiguous, which has long been known as a favorable retreat for the week-end, but, unfortunately, up to the time of the advent of the railroad it was too remote to be practicable.

But now the sportsman may pack his traps and spend an ideal Saturday to Monday where the fishing is of the finest and where the peace of shady canyons and cool tree-bordered river reaches give his nerves the surcease they crave.

He may cast his fly in either lake or stream, and when the season is opened, there is hardly a mile of this country where choice varieties of all kinds of game are abundant. The scenery is beyond description. Forests, streams, lakes, waterfalls, flower-carpeted meadows, in fact all of the attributes that go to make up an ideal summerland may be found in this new California on the Western Pacific line.

Not a Profitable One.

FLAG DAY AT C. U. H. S.

Fine Program Rendered at the New Annual Patriotic Exercises

Flag day was appropriately celebrated in Campbell at the High School campus, Wednesday morning, beginning at 9:45 o'clock. A large assembly of townspeople gathered on the grounds to witness the exercises and take part in the celebration. The Girls' Glee Club sat in a body near the temporary platform, while the boys sat in the rear and gave yells under the leadership of Ira Brown.

Rev. Merrill, Chaplain of the Corps, invoked the blessing of Him who made it possible for us to celebrate such an event, upon all connected with these or similar exercises.

The Glee Club sang "My Own United States," most beautifully.

In a speech which showed a most careful preparation and study, Russell Downing of the class of 1911, presented to the school a flag pole which they have had erected on the grounds. Prof. Smith accepted the gift of the class of 1911, on behalf of the school and the Trustees, in a very appropriate speech.

A cornet and trombone duet, "Those Songs My Mother Used To Sing," was rendered by Carl Scholz and Mervyn Keesling.

In a most fitting, though short, speech, Mrs. Alice M. Gillett, of the Woman's Relief Corps of Los Gatos, presented to the school and Trustees a most beautiful flag to wave in the breeze from the top of the pole just presented.

In the absence of Mr. Snow, who was to have accepted the flag for the Trustees, Rev. Geo. E. Atkinson made a few fitting remarks and made the acceptance for them.

The raising of the flag by the color bearers of the G. A. R. was followed by a salute to the flag by the standing assemblage. The Glee Club sang "She's Up There, Old Glory."

Chaplain Merrill in a brief speech told something of the purpose of the G. A. R. in promoting these patriotic celebrations.

The boys followed his speech with several rousing yells, and then gave way to the Glee Club, who sang "The Star Spangled Banner," the entire assemblage joining them. Their fresh young voices, blended with the breeze that was now waving the glorious flag of our nation, gave a finishing touch to the exercises. Benediction was pronounced by Chaplain Merrill.

Rewards Faithful Service

Close to One Million Dollars Have Been Distributed by Southern Pacific Company to Employes since January 1, 1903

During the month of May, 1911 the Pension Department of the Southern Pacific Company distributed $14,696.85 among its 420 pensioners. For the fiscal year 1910 the expenditure for pensions amounted to $160,930. Since the organization of the Pension Department of the Southern Pacific Company in January 1903, something over $800,000 has been disbursed among the retired employes. Since the organization of the department 616 men have been pensioned. Four hundred and twenty-two pensioners were on the Company's rolls on the first day of May 1911. These men are from all branches of the Company's service.

The Southern Pacific Company was the first railroad corporation to voluntarily recognize the services of its old employes in this manner. The provisions and regulations governing the Pension department and unusually liberal and the fact that after 25 years of service to his credit, and absolutely without any contribution on his part, an employe can retire on a liberal pension is certainly an incentive for the rendering of efficient and faithful service. It is a promise by the Company to take care of its employes after they have reached a certain age or have been compelled to retire by reason of injuries received during the performance of duties. There are few vocations that are more exacting than railroad work. It has such a charm, however, that a large majority of those who enter the service send an entire lifetime in it. The larger percentage of those enjoying pensions from the Southern Pacific Company have been retired for disability and not for age. There are many among the present list of pensioners who from sudden failure of health have been compelled to resign their places at the throttle, the telegraph key, work bench or other such important positions, and they all enjoy a sufficient monthly allowance to remove all anxiety during their declining years.

A unique idea of the beneficiaries of this bureau—the annual reunion—has met with unanimous favor. The first affair of this soty was given a year ago in the form of a complimentary luncheon tendered to Judge Robert S. Lovett, President of the Southern Pacific Company, and other high officials, at the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco. Addresses were made by Judge Lovett and other officials, and the old Central Pacific railroad was reconstructed with the reminiscenees of the pensioners. The reunion this year occurred May 15. It is the intention of the organization to hold its next reunion on the anniversary of the driving of the last spike, uniting the Union and Central Pacific systems.
